

EGHC Begins Swainsboro Expansion

08/07/2006

You asked for it Swainsboro – You got it.

East Georgia Healthcare Center is pleased to announce that beginning Monday, August 7th construction begins on our Swainsboro office expansion.

Several years in the planning, this expansion will add an additional 6 fully equipped exams rooms, space for expanded medical services, and more amenities for our patients.

This is the largest building project to date for EGHC, and all for the benefit of our patients.

EGHC recently opened a new billing and administrative office at 128 South Main Street in Swainsboro. By moving our billing and administrative offices to this new location we are able to use the existing space in our current office to expand our medical services.

“This is a medical upgrade that Swainsboro has been in need of for some time. With our expanded medical facility and our new doctors coming on board we feel certain that you will get the care that you need – when you need it.”, Jennie Wren Denmark, CEO.

During the 2 months that are estimated to complete the construction our office will remain open. For the best service, we recommend that you call ahead to schedule an appointment with one of our doctors.

“11 exam rooms and more medical providers equal less wait time, more services and more pleasant experience for our patients,” Herman Thompson, CIO

At East Georgia Healthcare Center we sincerely appreciate your patience and your patronage. We know that in order for Swainsboro as a community to succeed the healthcare of the people must come first. When construction is complete we are sure that you will be impressed with our accomplishment.
